President's Corner

I am just about 6 months into my term as President and sometimes I get overwhelmed with frustration. We are facing the busiest period of recruiting and training the jury for 2022 – 2023 without an adequate response to my many pleas for help. A small group of loyal members is doing yeoman service to keep us on track but they need more assistance. What has happened to the energetic people that wanted to give back to society during or after their careers? I believe that our organization offers so much opportunity to fulfill that wish for many folks. I envision using our non-profit position to launch projects that assist in executing recommendations contained in the juries' reports. Consider efforts associated with Wildfire, Homelessness, Mental Health, for example. All it takes is some willpower, innovation, leadership, and some energetic team members to pursue the effort.

But first we have to secure the next jury in spite of the pandemic inspired difficulties like cancellation of events we normally use. In consideration of that, I strongly request you to redouble your efforts in one of our best recruiting sources - encouraging friends and family to volunteer.

On another topic, through a friend I had the opportunity to make a recruiting pitch and tell the jury story to a meeting of a Rotary Society chapter last week. I found it very interesting that this 100 person organization can turn out upwards of 60 people for lunch every Friday and do a lot of public service. I am looking for the lesson – learned here. Help me out. What can we take away from this example that will help our 100 person Grand Jury chapter get this level of involvement.
